PART-I:

A. ABOUT FILM AND TELEVISION INSTITUTE OF INDIA (FTII)-A DEEMED TO BE UNIVERISTY

History

Established as Film Institute of India in 1960 on the erstwhile Prabhat Studio premises at Pune, FTII boasts of a rich legacy of quality education in cinema. The Television Wing, earlier located in New Delhi, was shifted to Pune in the early 70's, bringing together the training in film and television under one roof. The Institute was renamed Film and Television Institute of India in 1971. At its inception, the Television Wing was concerned mainly with in-service training for personnel from Doordarshan. However, over the years, it has developed into a full-fledged educational department, offering intensive course in Television with core specializations.

On 22nd April-2025, Ministry of Education awarded FTII the status of Deemed to be University under distinct category under Section 3 of UGC Act, 1956.

Mission and Vision

The Institute envisions imparting high quality education in the fields of Film, Television and allied media to encourage creative expression, independent enterprise and to create well trained professionals for Film, TV and Media industry. It also seeks to promote research and innovation and develop new concepts & practices in the area of Film and TV education for professional and socio-cultural exchange at the national & international level.

Collaborations

FTII is a member of CILECT, an international association of film and television schools (Centre International de Liaison des Ecoles de Cinéma et de Télévision). In addition, FTII also collaborates with renowned film, TV and media schools all over the world to conduct student exchange programs every year.

President, FTII Society Shri. R.Madhavan at the film studio of FTII, Pune

About Film Wing

The Film Wing of FTII offers seven master's degree programs that provide a rigorous and holistic education in the art and craft of filmmaking. These programs span key disciplines—Direction, Screenplay Writing, Cinematography, Sound, Editing, Art Direction & Production Design and Acting, guiding students from foundational concepts to advanced practice-based learning.

Each program is thoughtfully designed to nurture skilled, perceptive, and visionary filmmakers and professionals who are prepared to engage with the evolving dynamics of global cinema while remaining rooted in the rich traditions and innovations of Indian filmmaking. Our students develop a deep understanding of the historical, cultural, social, and economic forces that shape cinema, enabling them to create work that resonates with both contemporary audiences and universal human experiences.

Through intensive hands-on training, critical inquiry, and exposure to the latest technological advancements, we ensure that students acquire both the technical proficiency and creative insight necessary to excel in their chosen fields. Our programs emphasize not only artistic excellence but also independent thinking, collaboration, and a strong sense of cinematic responsibility.

In addition to preparing students for the professional industry, the Film Wing provides a robust foundation for advanced academic pursuits in cinema, media studies, and cultural research. This ensures that our graduates are not only industry-ready but also capable of contributing to the scholarly and artistic evolution of cinema.

With over six decades of legacy, the Film Wing takes immense pride in its distinguished alumni—many of whom have earned prestigious national and international awards, including Padma honors and the Dadasaheb Phalke Award. Their achievements continue to bring recognition and pride to FTII and to the nation.

Department of Direction & Screenplay-writing

Over the years the Department of Direction and Screenplay-writing has emerged to be one of the most popular courses at FTII. This has happened despite the fact that Direction and Screenplay is not a strictly speaking 'technical course' and initially the students need to struggle more to find their foothold in the film industry. Our curriculum is designed to nurture new voices in Indian cinema and we are proud of our heritage over the past seven decades. Significant alumni of our department including Kumar Shahani, Mani Kaul, Adoor Gopalakrishnan, John Abraham, Kamal Swaroop, Ketan Mehta, Saeed Mirza, Kundan Shah, Girish Kasaravalli, Jahnu Barua, Nirad Mahapatra and others have emerged to become the important voices in the parallel/alternative cinema movement in India.

Our alumni have also contributed to the film industry through successful and popular films over the decades through film makers like Vidhu Vinod Chopra, Sriram Raghavan, Rajat Kapoor, P Kumar Vasudev, Pankaj Parashar and others. In recent times, Payal Kapadia, who won the Grand Prix in Cannes film festival in 2024 has established herself as an important voice in contemporary cinema. The Department of Direction and Screenplay-writing has a pivotal position in the three year masters program at FTII and our main objective is to keep the dream of cinema alive.

MFA in Cinema with specialization in Direction & Screenplay-writing

The “Master of Fine Arts in Cinema” program with specialization in Direction and Screenplay-writing is envisaged as 3-year curriculum, that will firmly ground the students with a perspective on historical, social & economic developments since the birth of cinema and enable them to draw inspiration from the variety and depth of cinema practice in India. Our main objective is to ensure that the grooming artists of our country can enquire into their times and tell stories that restore humanity. The students who go through this curriculum should be able to be future-ready in terms of developing technologies and exploring new forms and territories in weaving stories.

Department of Screen Acting

The Department of Screen Acting at FTII carries a rich legacy that dates back to the institute's inception. Over the decades, we have had the privilege of training many of India's most respected and accomplished actors—artists whose work has earned national and international recognition. Among our distinguished alumni are not only recipients of national and international acting awards, but also honorees of prestigious civilian distinctions such as the Padma awards. Notably, in 2024, one of our alumni was conferred with the Dadasaheb Phalke Award—India's highest honour in cinema—for his outstanding contribution to Indian cinema. Our alumni network also includes individuals who have gone on to serve the nation as Cabinet Ministers and Members of Parliament.

In 2019, the department was officially renamed the Department of Screen Acting. Our facilities include two air-conditioned studio-cum-classrooms, an amphitheatre, and an open activity area, along with access to a heritage studio cum classroom housed within the historic Prabhat Studio.

Our experienced faculty emphasizes rigorous, hands-on training with a focus on developing skilled, creative, and insightful screen actors. Our goal is to nurture performers who not only excel in their craft but also make meaningful contributions to the evolving landscape of cinema and performance.

Students receive theoretical inputs and extensive hands-on training on state-of the-art equipment through class room sessions, workshops, practical, exercises with experienced in-house teachers and professionals from the industry. Students attend workshops conducted by in-house faculty and television professionals to acquaint themselves with production techniques of various program formats and carry out co-ordinated exercises.

Students carry-out exercises of different duration starting from 5 minutes to 15 minutes in single camera fiction, single camera non – fiction, multicamera non – fiction and course – end exercise in fiction/ non – fiction.

Department of Direction

One Year Post Graduate Certificate Course in TV with specialization in Direction

This course is conducted by the Department of TV Production and Direction. In a world where stories shape our perceptions and guide our understanding, the art of direction stands as the cornerstone of audio-visual storytelling. The course is a meticulously crafted journey for aspiring directors and producers, refining their technical skills and creative vision. This course offers a unique opportunity to learn the art & craft of direction across a spectrum of mediums - from television and film and to documentaries, OTT platforms, and emerging audio-visual formats. For those unable to commit to a longer program of study, this intensive, hands-on course is structured to maximize learning within a condensed time frame.

Over the span of one year, students will learn the foundational principles of writing, producing and directing for the screen. Combining theoretical insights with hands-on experience, they will explore ways of engaging storytelling. The curriculum covers basics of cinematography, editing, sound recording, and sound design. Students of Direction learn to lead production teams with creative and technical expertise, enabling them to assume key roles as directors, program producers and filmmakers.

Running for over 20 years, this course has proven its success through many National, Asian, and International awards won by our students. Add to this a strong network of award –winning alumni, and it is no surprise our graduates quickly find their place in industry, frequently emerging as independent filmmakers in their own right.

Structure: The course is divided into three carefully designed phases with a modular structure:

Phase 1: Introduction to various skill sets

This is a common module in which students of all disciplines are introduced to basics of writing, direction, cinematography, sound recording and design, editing as well as production, informed by an aesthetic approach. Theoretical input and hands-on training in single and multi-camera exercises coupled with faculty mentoring and feedback instill a strong foundation.

Phase 2: Specialization in Direction (Fiction and Non-fiction)

Students of Direction embark on their specialization. They produce fiction and non-fiction programs (ranging in duration from 5 - 12 minutes). They work with cutting-edge equipment and explore innovative storytelling in collaboration with their peers from allied specializations. The focus is on refining their skills in writing, direction and production through guided inputs by seasoned faculty, visiting experts and practical workshops by acclaimed filmmakers and industry practitioners.

Phase 3: The course-end exercise

Students write, direct, and produce a 15-minute film that showcases professional execution and a distinct personal aesthetic. Guided by experienced faculty and industry experts, this phase enables students to handle all aspects of production from ideation to execution and gain valuable feedback from internal as well as external faculty.

It is a compact combination of operational techniques and creative abilities in the students. The Sound Department is equipped with the Digital Audio Workstation, digital consoles, digital recorders, professional boom & wireless microphones etc.

During the course students learn to record sound for Fiction and Non-Fiction type of programmes. This basically comprises of Location Sound Recording with the Industry standard Wireless Microphones, Boom Microphones and Digital Audio Recorders. Students also learn the Audio Post-production of these programmes on world class Digital Audio Workstation Pro-Tools.

Multi-camera exercise is another coordinated activity which enables students to understand various aspects and challenges of Live Audio-Visual programme.

After the successful completion of the course students will have professional skills to work as a Sound Recordist for Fiction and Non-Fiction type of programmes. They will be in a position to work independently as a Production Sound Mixer as well as a Sound Designer and a Re-Recording Mixer for various platforms like TV, Documentaries, OTT etc. They will also be in a position to handle the Audio Post-production which includes Editing, Processing, Mixing and Mastering of above mentioned programmes on the Industry standard DAW (Digital Audio Workstation) Pro-Tools.

Television Engineering input related to present day television technology is also imparted for better understanding of technical issues. There are two multicamera High Definition (HD) TV studios. Both HD studios are equipped with motorized lighting systems with DMX panel, 16 channel Audio Console/ Mixer, Digital Video Switchers, Multilingual Character Generators, Computer Driven Tele-promoters, Digital VTRs etc. TV Engineering Department is instrumental in imparting training on multicamera setup in familiarization as well as specialization module. The department also imparts training to carry-out Electronic Field Production setup so as to expand the understanding of multicamera technique in the field beyond studios. The department also introduces latest technologies to the students like Artificial Intelligence, Virtual Production etc. and briefs about how film making can be carried-out using these latest technologies. The department. also imparts inputs on how digital post-production pipeline works i.e from dumping of camera card footage on digital platform for the usage of same by Editor, Sound Recordist, Colourist etc. and finally storage of same in DCP, DPX, .mp4, .mov etc. formats.

Working on above stated Sound and TV engineering equipment & studios, gives students the confidence to take up professional assignments. Interactions with the industry experts help them understand the current techniques and conventions prevalent in the field.

Structure: The course is divided into three carefully designed phases with a modular structure:

Phase 1: Introduction to various skill sets

This is a common module in which students of all disciplines are introduced to basics of writing, direction, cinematography, sound recording and design, editing as well as production, informed by an aesthetic approach. Theoretical input and hands-on training in single and multi-camera exercises coupled with faculty mentoring and feedback instill a strong foundation.

Phase 2: Specialization in Sound Recording & TV Engineering (Fiction and Non-fiction)

Students of Sound Recording & TV Engineering embark on their specialization. They undertake fiction and non-fiction programs (ranging in duration from 5 - 12 minutes). They work with cutting-edge equipment and explore innovative storytelling in collaboration with their peers from allied specializations. The focus is on refining their skills in Sound Recording through guided inputs by seasoned faculty, visiting experts and practical workshops by acclaimed filmmakers and industry practitioners.

Phase 3: The course – end exercise

Students undertake a 15-minute film that showcases professional execution and a distinct personal aesthetic. Guided by experienced faculty and industry experts, this phase enables students to handle aspects Sound Recording and gain valuable feedback from internal as well as external faculty.

 - iii. The availability of seats in different seat categories/ seat quotas for which the candidate is eligible.
 - iv. Other Rules as mentioned in this document.

8. At the time of publishing merit list of a course (first as well as that of subsequent rounds), if a candidate is offered a seat which happens to be his/ her only seat/ preference – 1 of the seat allocation, the same seat will be considered as auto – freeze. Thus, that round onwards, such candidate will have no claim on preference – 2 of the seat allocation, if any, and will be no longer a part of the merit list of other course.

9. However, if a seat is offered as per preference – 2 of the seat allotment, the candidate will continue to have claim on preference – 1 seat (his/ her roll no. continues to be part of both merit-wait list till the seat selection is resolved as per preference and merit).

10. Further, if candidate's roll no. is reflected in two merit lists of two courses and if seat is neither allotted as per preference-1 nor as per preference- 2 of seat allocation, the candidate continues to be part of merit-wait list of both the courses.

11. For accepting the offered seat, a candidate needs to pay a non – refundable Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF) of Rs 50,000/- through online payment system (via SB Collect portal) as per deadline.

12. Failing to pay the Seat Acceptance Fee by the deadline, candidate will no longer have any claim on the offered seat and also will not be eligible for further rounds of seat allocation, if any, for that particular course. Accordingly, that seat will be then offered to next eligible candidate as per rules.

- 13. Course fee & other charges vary across courses and are different from Seat Acceptance Fee. However, Seat Acceptance Fee will be adjusted against course fee & other charges. For course fee & other charges details, please refer Admission Fee described in the table given in the FTII-ET Prospectus 2024-25 on page number 72 to 75.
- 14. Offered seat will be provisionally allotted to a candidate only after receipt of Seat Acceptance Fee, before the last date & time specified for the given round. Said provisional allotment means that the candidate has accepted the offered seat, but the final acceptance from FTII is contingent on successful verification of certificates/ documents by, and on joining, the Institute and also payment of balance Course fee and other charges.
- 15. Further, balance Course fee and other charges are to be paid before the specified last date & time, failing which Seat Acceptance Fee will be forfeited and offered seat will be withdrawn.
- 16. Next round(s) of seat allocation for a particular course will be carried-out only if seat(s) remain vacant in that course, subject to other rules as stated in this document.
- 17. In subsequent rounds, vacant seat(s) will be first offered to the waitlisted candidates of that particular course in which seats are vacant.
- 18. Further, if a seat in that particular course is reserved for Gen – PwD and if waiting list for Gen – PwD seat is exhausted but still seat is vacant, the same will be offered to General (UR) waiting list candidate, in the order of merit, as per rules.
- 19. Also, if waiting list of OBC – NCL category of that particular course is exhausted and still seat(s) are vacant, the same will be offered to General (UR) waiting list candidate(s), in the order of merit, as per rules.

Special Admission Round-1 (After exhausting waiting list):

1. Once waiting list of that particular course is fully exhausted as per rules but still seats are vacant, maintaining reservations as per rules, Special Admission Round – 1 will be carried – out wherein remaining candidates from the Written Test merit list of that particular course (who were not invited for Stage-2 test) will be invited for online Stage-2 test of that particular course in 1:4 ratio (1 vacant seat: 4 candidates), in the order of merit, maintaining reservation policy.
2. Based on said online Stage-2 test and Written Test score, a merit list for vacant seats of that particular course will be prepared as per rules and vacant seats will be accordingly offered to the respective category candidates, in the order of merit.
3. If still, Gen – PwD and OBC – NCL seat(s) remain vacant, the same will be filled from the eligible General (UR) waitlisted candidates, in the order of merit as per rules.
4. This process continues till such remaining Written Test merit list of that particular course is exhausted as per the policy of the institute.

Special Admission Round – 2

1. Special Admission Round-2 will be carried – out for Editing, Cinematography, Sound and Direction streams of both the wings.
2. If seat(s) in any course remain vacant even after carrying out Special Admission Round-1, it will be filled by offering the same to the eligible waitlisted candidates (of that round) of other course of same stream as per following;
 - (i) If a seat is vacant in One Year Post-Graduate Certificate Course in TV with specialization in Direction, the same will be filled from the eligible waitlisted candidates (of that round) of Three Year MFA in Cinema with specialization in Direction & Screenplay Writing AND VICE – VERSA.

(ii) If a seat is vacant in One Year Post-Graduate Certificate Course in TV with specialization in Electronic Cinematography, the same will be filled from the eligible waitlisted candidates (of that round) of Three Year MFA in Cinema with specialization in Cinematography AND VICE – VERSA.

(iii) If a seat is vacant in One Year Post-Graduate Certificate Course in TV with specialization in Video Editing, the same will be filled from the eligible waitlisted candidates (of that round) of Three Year MFA in Cinema with specialization in Editing AND VICE – VERSA.

(iv) If a seat is vacant in One Year Post-Graduate Certificate Course in TV with specialization in Sound Recording & TV Engineering, the same will be filled from the eligible waitlisted candidates (of that round) of Three Year MFA in Cinema with specialization in Sound Recording & Sound Design AND VICE – VERSA.

Note:

1. Candidates seeking admissions through subsequent waiting list rounds and or Special Admission Round – 1 & 2 will also need to pay Seat Acceptance Fee and balance Course fee & other charges, in same manner as that for previous/ first round of seat allotment and same rules will be applicable to these candidates.
2. After carrying – out all the possible rounds of admission, even if SC and or ST and or EWS seats remain vacant, the same will remain unfilled.
3. Candidates seeking admissions through subsequent waiting list rounds and or Special Admission Round – 1 & 2 may miss initial few weeks' classes which will not be repeated. Admission process will close four (04) weeks after the commencement of the first class.
4. It is candidate's responsibility to visit FTII website to see published of merit list(s) of different courses. It is also responsibility of the candidate to maintain active email id (as submitted at the time of application form) and regularly check the same, as communication(s), if any, from FTII will be made only on the registered email ids.

5. Once a candidate accepts an offered seat after Special Admission Round-2, He/She will lose claim on his/her place in the original waiting list.
6. In case the selected candidate of Special Admission Round-2 had deposited Application Fee for only one paper, the remaining amount will be recovered at the time of admission.
7. Any additional clarification/information related to Special Admission Round-1 & 2 will be published on the web-site of FTII: /Admission Web-Site.

ABOUT PUNE

Film and Television Institute of India is located in the heart of Pune city, at the foot of Hanuman Tekdi, one of the many hills that give Pune a hill-station like feel. Located at an altitude of 560 meters above sea level on the fringes of Deccan plateau, Pune is known as the Queen of Deccan owing to its generally pleasant weather, healthy monsoon, and greenery.

Founded in the 17th century by Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj this humble capital of Marathas flourished under the administration of Peshwas and became a hub of education and activism during colonial days. This is where the first ever school for women in India was run by Savitribai and Jyotiba Phule and the first women's college was founded by Dhondo Keshav Karve. Since then, Pune has emerged as major center of learning with its numerous educational institutions and universities attracting a large number of outstation as well international students.

Besides FTII, Pune is also home to a number of national institutions of repute, such as the National Defence Academy (NDA), Armed Forces Medical College (AFMC), National Film Archives of India (NFAI), National Chemical Laboratory (NCL), Inter University Centre for Astronomy and Astro-physics (IUCAA) and National Institute for Virology (NIV), to name a few. Several research institutes like Bhandarkar Institute of Oriental Research and language study centres like Max Muller Bhavan have further enriched the city's educational environment.

While the constant presence of youth brings vibrancy to Pune's streets, many historical structures add to its splendour. From Pataleshwar, the rock-cut cave temple that dates back to Rashtrakuta Dynasty in the 8th Century, to the 16th Century relics of Shaniwarwada; and Sinhagad Fort that attests to the glory of Maratha kingdom, to Aga Khan Palace where Mahatma Gandhi was held in detention, the city is bursting with stories- told and untold.

Owing to its rich legacy in Hindustani classical music, theatre, dance and literature that continues till date, Pune has come to be recognized as the cultural capital of Maharashtra. Sawai Gandharva Music Festival that celebrates Indian classical music, Vinod Doshi Theater Festival that showcases avant garde theatre, Pune Biennial that brings together art, architecture and design and Pune International Film Festival are some of the most sought-after events by Pune-kars (residents of Pune). Intercollegiate theatre and art competitions like Purushottam Karandak and Firodiya Karandak are an inseparable part of Pune's cultural life. The city also has its share of museums, such as the personal collection of Raja Dinkar Kelkar, a tribal museum and a railway museum and is home to one of India's foremost state-of-the-art sporting arenas- Shree Shiv Chhatrapati Sports Complex at Balewadi.

For all its industrial development in recent years, with a burgeoning automotive industry and a thriving information technology sector, Pune has, in a certain way, managed to sustain a certain quaint flavour of a small town. With stone façade and tile-roofed cottages scattered all over the town and its innumerable old bakeries and restaurants, Pune makes for a great place to live, learn, explore and enjoy.
